

Y ou never intended for your marriage to end in divorce...

You tried your best.
You worked hard to build
a life together.
You love your children.

But now you are unable to get past the differences.
Perhaps trust has been broken.

The decision has been made
to get a divorce.

Now you have a choice...

A Cordial Divorce.

What we do for you

- * Provide a divorce for a flat fee.
- * Provide answers to both of you regarding legal questions and concerns.
- * Handle your case so there is no court appearance required for either party.
- * Help you both complete the necessary divorce paperwork in a timely and correct manner.

Lynda H. McMaken
Attorney at Law

Admissions to Courts
State of Washington, 1988
Federal District Court, 1989

Why it makes sense

- * There is less wear and tear on the family, especially younger children.
- * You get the best solution for your personal situation.
- * You maintain a civil relationship with your soon-to-be ex-spouse.
- * The money you save in adversarial attorney fees is substantial: tens of thousands of dollars.
- * You both save money, time, and emotional energy.
- * You work through the legal process of divorce with a knowledgeable and supportive professional.

Lynda works primarily in the areas of business law and estate planning. Her work is strategic and designed to prevent legal problems. She forms and maintains corporations and LLC's, drafts contracts, Wills, Trusts, Living Wills, POA, DPOA and handles probate for clients. Her commitment is to customer service, accessibility and keeping clients out of trouble.

Heather E. Forrier
Attorney at Law

Admissions to Courts
State of Washington, 2002
Federal District Court, 2006

Heather works primarily in the area of domestic relations law. Her focus is to help couples through the process of divorce while encouraging a cordial relationship between parties.

How we work with you

- * Email or phone to set up an appointment for both of you to meet with an Attorney to discuss your options and concerns.
- * After you decide to hire us, we start the process with a detailed questionnaire to determine what is best for your situation.
- * As grown-ups you will talk it out. We are able to help if you get stuck.
- * Your petition is filed with the court, and we will complete the necessary legal documents while keeping you both informed of the status of your case.

16710 Agate Pass Road
Bainbridge Island, WA 98110
(206) 842-4731
info@lyndahmcmaken.com
www.CordialDivorce.com™

Cordial Divorce is a complete service that includes comprehensive legal documents for "Cordial" as well as collaborative and contested divorces; timely filing of court papers; specific legal guidance for both the husband and wife; equal and fair representation, and a reasonable fee.

In a Cordial Divorce, both spouses are represented equally. Because of the dual representation, there is direct transparent communication concerning the position of each party on all issues. Both parties know when advice is given as to what their respective rights are, what the court would likely decide if the divorce were contested, and what it takes to move the process forward.

Meetings are conducted in a calm, friendly, professional atmosphere. Each client is treated with respect and all questions, concerns, and ideas are responded to in a prompt manner.

Our goal is for the parties to know, when the divorce is final, that they were treated fairly by each other and therefore are able to move forward with their lives in a positive way.

"So often you go to people for services and they don't listen. Lynda always listens so she can understand our needs."

- Barbara Stedman from Silverdale